After an absence of two years, in 1 On June 8, he was made an ensign, which he has cruised over a large part of the Pacific ocean, Ensign Robert United States navy is furlough from that gallant ship, the Philadelphia, which is now in the Mare Island navy yard in San Francisco bay. He will return to the ship next Wednesmeantime, Ensign Morris is putting in his time looking up old acquaintances and grasping the hands of his Sait Lake friends. And there are many of these, for "Bob" Morris is well known and popular here. He is staying at the home of his father, Joseph R. Morris, 233 west North Temple street. Two years ago last month, Ensign Morris graduated from Annapolis. He then went on the Iowa, and was sent along the Mexican coast as a post cadet. After a year on the Iowa, he was transferred to the Philadelphia, and was sent to Samoa, where he remained about six months, coming back to San Francisco. He then went out on a short cruise with the California Naval Reerves, and in January of this year was sent on the Philadelphia to Panama.

which position he must hold for three years, when it is practically certain that a lieutenancy will be tendered him. The Philadelphia was sent to Pana-ma for the protection of American interests in that port during the stirring times of the revolution.

"About the only exciting thing that happened down there in which we were concerned, "said Ensign Morris, "was a big naval fight which occurred, in January in Panama Bay between the fleet. It was our duty to keep the rebels from bombarding the city of Panama and to keep them from firing into, American shipping. They respected the flag, because it was the best thing for "The fight down there is about over now, I think. The government just about has the rebels under subjection, although a rebel gunboat is still at large, and when we left, a naval en-gagement was expected. The rebel army is composed of small boys. It is hard to believe, but there are boys of 10 years of age fighting in that army. They are hardly hig enough to carry a gun, and yet they belong to the army and have been fighting for their cause.

An accident, which might have been much worse than it was, occurred at Fort Douglas late Saturday afternoon, during which time there was much exeftement and not a little heroic work by some of the gallant soldiers &t the

It occurred during the Funston review, when six of the fiery steeds connected with the artillery and attached to the first caisson, tore through the farade lines and started on a dead run.
Private Piper, who was riding the lead team, skillfully guided them around the field piece ahead and then turned arply to the left, cutting directly arough the lines. In their mad stampede the caisson was overturned, which gave the horses fresh impetus and they continued on their wild chase, urning again and again until Private riding the wheel team, was thrown violently to the ground, his sead striking a stone, and rendering him unconscious for some time. The horses left the field at its northwestern extremity and did not stop until they landed in a ditch near the University, Private Pleasures by the constant of the co versity. SALARIES ARE CHANGED. Increase in the Compensation of Coun-

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, July 28.-The county commisioners at a meeting this morning adopted a resolution introduced by Commissioner Skeene, fixing the salaries of the county officers as follows: County commissioners, $600 per annum; county attorney, $1,200, an increase of $200; assessor, $1,000; clerk and ex-officio county auditor, $1,500; recorder, $1,500, an increase of $200; sheriff, $1,500, an increase of $200; treasurer, $1,500, and surveyor, $200.

The board received a communication from the State board of Equalization stating the latter was satisfied with the city and county assessments, and would make no change in them whatever. The state board has fixed the state tax of Weber county at seven and eight-tenths mills. Of this amount four and eight-tenths is to be used for state purposes and three-tenths for maintenance of the state schools.

Fresno, Cal., July 28.-In Porterville ! yesterday James McKinney ran amuck and initiated his performance by shooting out the lights of a saloon and tried to shoot the cards out of the hands of a man in a card game. That he only wounded the man was due to his poor marksmanship and not to his lack of criminal intentions. He then proceeded to a livery stable and demanded a rig. As his argument was backed by a six shooter, the rig was soon forthcoming. A constable, a deputy sheriff and several citizens attempted to arrest Mc-Kinney, but he opened up on them and four of them were more or less seriously wounded. The criminal then pro-ceeded on his way. Officers in surrounding counties were notified and a sharp outlook is being kept.
